

I am writing today to ask the FCC to NOT expand the LPFM regulations to take priority over FM translators. The current FM translator station in my area KLOVE @ 88.5 FM is listened by me and my family many hours each day and by literally thousands of other family's in the Fairbanks/North Pole area. The KLOVE station serves us by providing encouraging positive family programs and music, which we do not have to worry about inappropriate material. If the proposed expansion to the LPFM were to be passed stations such as KLOVE would no longer be able to operate with the efficiency they now do, and would virtually eliminate this service. KLOVE serves the public interest by providing family friendly programming and music which has a positive, loving, and encouraging message not found anywhere else. To lose this great station would actually be a travesty and a public DIS-service.

I encourage the FCC to not expand the proposed LPFM service, the current LPFM regulations seem to be fine the way the are.

Thank you for your time, consideration and cooperation in this matter.
